

KTIN RANGE Metric Nut Screwdrivers

Major Tec's Insulated Metric Nut Drivers, a cutting-edge range designed for electrical professionals seeking reliability and safety. These nut drivers are fully insulated, providing secure use on live conductors up to 1000V AC, and meticulously crafted to meet the rigorous IEC 60900 standards. Each nut driver undergoes individual testing to 10,000V, ensuring unparalleled reliability in diverse electrical applications. Designed with the user in mind, the nut drivers feature reinforced polypropylene handles that not only offer a comfortable grip but also guarantee exceptional durability, making them resilient in demanding work environments. The ergonomic design enhances user comfort during prolonged usage, making these nut drivers the preferred choice for electricians and technicians.
